

ERRATUM in Attachment C7: Halibut DMR Discussion Paper

Page 19 of this discussion paper states:

“Table 10 summarizes each of these four elements for a range of alternative estimation methodologies and the status quo approach. Considering the present situation (status quo) and looking forward, the information provided in Table 9, is broken into modifications that can be done with existing data (“feasible improvement” and possibly “near future alternative”) compared to improvements that would likely”

Should read:

“Table 10 summarizes each of these four elements for a range of alternative estimation methodologies and the status quo approach. Considering the present situation (status quo) and looking forward, the information provided in Table 10, is broken into modifications that can be done in the short term with existing data (“feasible improvement” and possibly “near future alternative”) compared to improvements that would likely require more time as well as improved data to develop.”
